OLD TIMES IN FRANKFORT.

No. XI.

Some are in the church-yard laid.
Some sleep beneath the sod.
But few are left of our old class
Excepting you and me.
And when our time shall come, Tom,
And we are called to go,
I hope they'll lay us where we played
Just twenty years ago.

—O'HARA.

Since the inception of the generation past, the metamorphose from past social and business conditions is almost complete.

The habits of social life and the channels of business were on different lines. There was more of the cosmopolitan feature—the common brotherhood—the linking of personal interests—than there is now. The observances of social circles, and the transactions of public life, had in them a greater share of that tender sympathy—that makes the whole world akin.

The passing away of those who were the basis and the component elements of this sympathetic life, and the influx of new ideas, and new modes of business and social life, has produced this change. Frankfort is becoming modernized. Ministers seldom preach now—they read essays, typewritten during the week. Orators have ceased to be eloquent—they strive to be logical. Informal calls are not etiquette—the calls must be by card and at stated hours. There are no school children—the youths are all men and women.

How great the change in the persons who conducted the business of the city thirty or forty years ago, may be readily seen by recalling the names of some of those who did business on Main and St. Clair streets, at that period.

Opposite the lively stable kept by Nelson Aley, near the head of Main street, and adjacent to the Capital Hotel, was the saddlery shop of Esq. Jimmy Shannon. Across the street, and next to the stable, was the cabinet shop of A. G. & J. P. Cammack. The Capital Hotel was conducted by James Saffell, with John T. Gray as business manager.

Jimmy Fitzgerald ran a saloon where Brady's shoe shop now is. Con McAllister did a similar business on the corner of Ann street, following Honor Powell, who ran the place as a restaurant. Near by was the business house of V. Kaffenbren, the shoemaker. Near it, and on the ground now occupied by the Opera House, Silas M. Noel, in partnership with Mr. Church, conducted a lively stable, in which originated a disastrous fire that destroyed much valuable property. Geo. Baer was the first proprietor of the hotel now known as the Frankfort Hotel.

On the corner of the alley was the hat manufactory of John Baltzell, where hats were beaten and blocked out in the old way, of genuine wool, and warranted to wear till Gabriel blew his trumpet. His little hat sign was one of the last relics of ancient times to disappear from the old town. Its removal was fitly announced in a memorial article from the pen of Col. John Mason Brown.

On the north side of Main street, corner of Ann, was the grocery of James M. Todd, a most genial gentleman, around whose store, during the wintry nights, a group composed of Geo. B. Crittenden, James W. (Dick) Tate, John S. Harvie, Thos. Heffner, Ben Towson, and others were wont to gather. Next in succession was the mercantile talking establishment of Nelson Heffner, the drug store of Wm. H. Averill, and the book store of S. C. Bull. Grant Green was cashier of the Farmers' Bank, and Ed. S. Theobald, teller.

On the corner Tad Gray kept a grocery, and adjoining was the silversmith shop of Ben F. Meek and the fishing reel manufactory of Ben C. Milam. Next was the drug store of Dr. J. M. Mills. Next the hat store of John N. Crutcher—entire to His Excellency, the Governor, etc. Then came the dry goods store of John L. Moore, the tin shop of Geo. W. Miller, the silversmith's shop of A. Conery, the store of J. M. Helms, with Austin Kendall's book bindery above, and the dry goods store of J. L. & W. H. Waggener, on the corner of St. Clair. On the opposite side of Main street was the brick residence of Judge Morgan B. Chinn, who dispensed justice to malefactors. Above was the store of "Boss" Lampton, and adjoining was the residence of Dr. J. S. Price. At the corner of Lewis street Squire G. W. Gwin conducted a hardware store and had his magistrate's office.

The first story of the Mansion house, on St. Clair street, then owned by John Haly, had not then been modernized into store rooms. The Deposit Bank, about this time, was organized by Philip Swigert, with John Watson as cashier, and occupied the room now used by Schenke as a barber shop.

The Metropolitan Theatre, next to the Commonwealth building, gave entertainment to thousands of citizens and visitors under the engagement of all the noted professional troupes, with frequent performances by amateur companies. It was burned down in the fall of 1897, the fire originating in Humphrey J. Hyde's shoe shop beneath. Close by was the business office of R. P. Pepper. Louis Weltzel conducted a confectionery about the middle of the block. V. Herberich and Jerome Weltzel a tailoring establishment, and lower down was Philip Selbert, silversmith, and Adam Kahr a grocery and saloon.

Across the street was the clothing store of Sol Harris and the noted dry goods store of Reuben Ruman, the doctor's office of Drs. Rodman & Sneed, and the famous Old Dominion Restaurant of D. L. Haly.

At the upper end of St. Clair street, near the Courthouse, were the offices of A. J. James, Thos. N. Lindsey, Lysander Hord, S. F. J. Traine, John Rodman, John I. Scott, James Harlan, Geo. W. Craddock, Pat U. Major, Geo. C. Crane, John Mason Brown and others, whose pleadings and oratory had given to the Frankfort bar an enviable reputation.

Of all this host of active movers in the business life of the city, only three are now doing business within its limits, and only five—Crutcher, Weltzel, Miller, Sol Harris and Herberich—are living reminders of the dead past. Alley, Shannon, Cammack, Saffell, Fitzgerald, Powell, Noel, Baltzell, Todd, Heffner, Averill, Bull, Gray, Meek, Milam, Mills, Moore, Conery, Helms, W. H. Waggener, Kendall, Chinn, Lampton, Price, Gwin, Swigert, Green, Theobald, Hodges, Hyde, Jerome Weltzel, Selbert, Rodman, Sneed, Haly, Lindsey, Scott, James, Hord, Harlan, Craddock, Traine, Rodman, Drume, Major—with hundreds of others of the same day and time—have all gone—gone to the realms where "the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest."

SHOOTING ON SUNDAY.

About noon, on Sunday, two young men, by the name of Lemuel Browner and Dennis O'Nan, became involved in a difficulty over a business transaction, in the course of which young Browner shot O'Nan in the leg, inflicting a painful, but not serious, wound. Browner was arrested by Officer Davis Harrod. Surgical attention was rendered O'Nan, and he is doing very well.

A STEADY DRAIN.

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make You Ill, Languid and Depressed.

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life-giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Great Frankfort cures prove it.

C. H. Luckett, night clerk at the Hotel Fleming, Holmes street, says: "I was troubled for some time with marked symptoms of kidney ailment, principally in connection with the kidney secretions which at times were very annoying and distressing. I had used Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and so highly recommended that it was with hopes that they might help me that I went to J. W. Gayle's drug store and got a box. I used them as directed and found they benefited me in every way, so much so that I have recommended them to my friends on several occasions, and will do so whenever I can. You may refer to me at any time as having used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results, and I hope it may be the means of relieving others who may be suffering from the common complaint, kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ABLE TO LEAVE HOSPITAL.

Mr. John E. Miles, who was so seriously hurt by a lot of sacked flour falling on him, at his store, on St. Clair street, in January, was able to leave the King's Daughters Hospital, on Saturday morning, and return to his home on Main street, opposite the Rupert Grocery Co.'s store.

"I owe my whole life to Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrutinious sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure. B. B. H. has made me a perfectly well woman." Mrs. Chas. Hutton, Berville, Mich.

REPUBLICANS TO HAVE LOVE FEAST.

The Republican members of the Legislature have issued a large number of invitations to prominent men of that party to a banquet and love feast, to be held at the Capital Hotel, in this city, on Friday evening, March 9.

This meeting is for the purpose of consultation and harmonizing the various elements in the party.

STARVING TO DEATH.

Because her stomach was so weakened by nervous dragging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, Mo., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and no before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement came at once, and a complete cure followed. Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists."

Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, but because it is the magazine. Why?

FIRST—THE PRICE. It costs but one dollar a year, or less than ten cents a number, for over thirteen hundred two column pages of reading matter. The amounts in actual bulk to twenty or twenty-five books costing anywhere from a dollar to two dollars a volume.

SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's leading writers—the best short story writers, the best writers on timely articles, the best writers of important serials, such as Schurz's "Geminus" or Baker's "Railroad articles."

THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subjects in the next twelve months are going to be so important as the question of railroad rates and rebates and the question of life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.

FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time, there is never a line in it that any young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.

McClure's Magazine

In your home is intended to work only for good. Send $1.00 to-day for one year's subscription, or have an order at your book-store. November and December free with new subscriptions for 1906.

S. S. McCLURE COMPANY, 47 E. 23d Street, NEW YORK.

You can earn a good income by taking up the business of securing subscribers for McClure's. It is clean and self-respecting—a publication any man or woman would like to represent. The pay is 25 cents for each $1.00 subscription, in addition to big cash prizes for the best work. Write for full particulars.

B. C. WHITNEY'S "ISLE OF SPICE."

The "Isle of Spice," a piquant musical mixture, will be presented by B. C. Whitney's musical organization at the Capital Theatre next Friday, March 9. The book is by Allen Lowe and George E. Stoddard and the music by Paul Schindler and Ben M. Jerome. There are many amusing situations, in the piece and the music contains a great many numbers which have proven very popular wherever they have been heard. Among them are "Peggy Brady," sung by Leslie Leigh; "The Broomstick Witches," sung by Miss Lilian Gorman, and "The Goo-Goo Man," sung by Sam Mylie, with the assistance of a pony ballet of twelve pretty girls.

The principal comedians in the cast are Herbert Cawthorne, Harry Watson and Sam Mylie, who keep things humming with their witty sayings and funny maneuvers. Miss Leslie Leigh is the "little maid of Nicobar," who owns half the spice fields, which the King is desirous of confiscating for his own use. She is also in love with a Lieutenant of the U. S. Marines, impersonated by Geo. White, who possesses an exceedingly strong tenor voice. Miss Mattie Martz and Miss May Sweeney are the King's wives, and Miss Susie Forester is the deported wife of the much married Majesty. Others in the company are Robert Kane, Harry Grillich, Marguerite De Santo, Rosita Lawrence, and a radiant regiment of real singers. The company is a large one and requires three sixty-foot baggage cars to transport the stage effects.

The "Isle of Spice" has been presented in Chicago for twenty-six weeks; in Boston, at the Globe Theatre, fourteen weeks, and at the Majestic Theatre New York City fifteen weeks. The above cast, which is the original one, has proven a great favorite in the cities mentioned. This alone is a sufficient guarantee that a pleasing evening's entertainment at the theatre is in store for those lucky enough to witness a performance of the "Isle of Spice" when it appears here. Seats on sale at Barrett's Wednesday morning, March 7.

There are so many surprising features in the "Wizard of Oz," that there is little wonder that it retains its hold on the public. The two chief comedians, the Messrs. Rock and Niece, are wonderfully clever in their impersonations of the Tin Woodman and the Scarecrow, but there are enough other things, intermixed in the play in the way of scenic effects, dances and songs, so that the funny men never become tiresome. There are pretty girls galore in the company, and the principals would be recognized as prize winners in any beauty contest.

Fred Woodward, who plays Imogene, the Cow, in the "Wizard of Oz," has been an animal impersonator ever since he has been on the stage. He played a donkey in the Christmas pantomime, "The Forty Thieves," at the Drury Lane Theatre, in London, and afterwards the part of the monkey in another pantomime, various other animals being impersonated by him at different times. The Cow in the "Wizard" is the best attempt at portraying that useful beast on the stage.

WONDERFUL AND VERSATILE MAN.

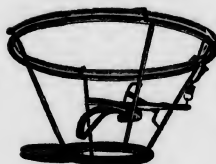

To those who have ever witnessed a performance given by this master spirit of travesty—the Great Lafayette—an introduction is not necessary, for they know that he is continually presenting something fine and unusually startling for the delectation of the theatregoing public.

His portion of the programme during this engagement covers a very wide scope, and shows his remarkable and talented attainments—first as a protean artist, presenting lightning changes from one character to another in a seemingly impossible manner and constantly interjecting a vein of comedy which drives away the bewilderment of his audience before a wave of irresistible laughter.

In his impersonations of noted composers, he not only traces these famous musicians from a point of faithful caricature, but he presents each character surrounded by his own carefully selected concert band of twenty soloists, which adds materially to the exciting excellence of this portion of the performance.

Fifty people and two ear loads of elaborate paraphernalia are utilized in Lafayette's new version of the "Lion's Bride," and with its gorgeous scenic environment, taken from legendary lore, depicting the love, hate and ferocious jealousy of a colossal untamed lion, and the startling and awe-inspiring denouement must be seen to be appreciated, and while Mr. Lafayette is the predominate factor on this highly interesting programme, the balance of the bill is replete with novelties, including the latest novelty adopted by Mr. Lafayette from Dr. Cagliostro's research for the mystic elixir of life, the travesty on the Russian anarchist and several other surprises that this genius has been preparing and which are now complete.

This attraction comes to Capital Theatre Saturday, March 10.

It should be remembered that the cyclone scene in the "Wizard of Oz" comes at the very beginning of the play, and that the curtain is up and this particular scene over shortly after 8 o'clock.

A FRIEND THAT WAS A FRIEND.

Don't frown—look pleasant. If you are suffering from indigestion or sour stomach, take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hon. Jake Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., says: "I suffered more than 20 years with indigestion. A friend recommended Kodol. It relieved me in one day and I now enjoy better health than for many years." Kodol digests what you eat, relieves sour stomach, gas on stomach, belching, etc. Kodol strengthens the digestive organs, sweetens the stomach, and enables you to eat, digest, assimilate and enjoy whatever you like. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

AN ADMIRABLE CHOICE.

Under the new law, recently passed, creating the office of Commissioner of the Court of Appeals (rendered necessary by the incapacity of Judge Cantrell), that court, on Tuesday, selected Hon. John D. Carroll, of Henry county, for the position.

This is an admirable appointment of fine ability and wide experience and will render admirable service. Judge Carroll would adorn any bench upon which he should sit.

THE "STATE" OF BREATHITT.

Breathitt county comes to the front with another strained condition of affairs.

The grand jury has presented indictments against Hargis, Callahan, Abner, French and Smith, charging them with the assassination of Jas. B. Marcum.

These parties have been arrested and lodged in jail. They swore Judge Riddell off of the bench, and the Governor will have to appoint a special circuit judge to try the parties.

The grand jury is investigating the assassination of Cockrell and Cox, and it is said that a vast deal of new evidence has been brought out, and a number of other indictments and arrests will be made.

Altogether the situation is strained to the snapping point.

A household necessity—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Heals burns, cuts, wounds of any sort; cures sore throat, croup, catarrh, asthma; never fails.

DON'T GET THE HABIT.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and growling. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Kodol is a thorough digester and will afford relief from any disorder due to imperfect digestion or mal-assimilation of food. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

A FOOLISH PLAN.

"It's a joy to eat—I welcome my dinner hour! Because I find indigestion with August Flower!"
"Constipation is the result of indigestion, biliousness, flatulency, loss of appetite, self-poisoning, anemia, emaciation, uric acid, neuralgia in various parts of the system, catarrhal inflammation of the intestinal canal and numerous other ailments that rob life of its pleasures if they do not finally rob you of life itself."
"I'm bound in the bowels," is a common expression of people who look miserable and are miserable—yet who persist in "letting nature take its course."
"What a foolish plan, when nature could be aided by the use of Green's August Flower, which is nature's own remedy for constipation and all stomach ills."
"August Flower gives new life to the liver and insures healthy stools."

FARMERS MEETING.

The farmers of the State, representing 75 or 80 counties, met in this city on Tuesday and continued in session for three days.

Addresses of welcome by Gov. Beekham, on the part of the State, and by Mayor Hume in behalf of the city, were delivered. Col. W. J. Stone, of Kuttawa, responded to these addresses.

Addresses of great interest and full of information were delivered by Col. Jos. E. Wing, of Ohio; Prof. H. Garman, State Entomologist; Prof. O. W. Price, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Forestry Division; Prof. Alva Ages, of Ohio; Prof. A. M. Miller, State College; President J. K. Patterson, State College; Hon. S. C. Lanester, Consulting Engineer of Public Roads Department, U. S.; Prof. A. M. Seavell, State College; Dr. J. W. T. Dovel, U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry; Hon. Abe Rennie, of Winchester; Mr. R. R. Gritner, of Eminence; Mr. C. M. Hanna, of Shelby county; Prof. G. M. Hammel, U. S. Department of Animal Industry; Prof. A. D. Shammel, U. S. Department Plant Industry; Prof. D. I. Duncan, of New York, and others.

Great interest was aroused and many helpful suggestions made.

It was a large and representative body of progressive farmers.

On Wednesday evening a banquet was served to the members by the Frankfort Business Men's Club.

It was a success from every point of view.

The following officers were elected:

President—H. H. Froman, of Carroll.

First Vice President—Morgan Hughes, of Warren.

Second Vice President—R. K. Hart, of Fleming.

Secretary—Clarence Sale, of Jefferson.

Treasurer—C. M. Hanna, of Shelby.

Executive Committee—G. W. Mc-

Impoverished Soil

Impoverished soil, like impoverished blood, needs a proper fertilizer. A chemist by analyzing the soil can tell you what fertilizer to use for different products.

If your blood is impoverished your doctor will tell you what you need to fertilize it and give it the rich, red corpuscles that are lacking in it. It may be you need a tonic, but more likely you need a concentrated fat food, and fat is the element lacking in your system.

There is no fat food that is so easily digested and assimilated as

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

It will nourish and strengthen the body when milk and cream fail to do it. Scott's Emulsion is always the same; always palatable and always beneficial where the body is wasting from any cause, either in children or adults.

We will send you a sample free.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure Them Both.

Dr. Miles' Nerve is a specific for nervous disorders, removes the cause and effects a speedy and permanent cure.

"I feel it my duty to let you know that your medicines have cured my little girl of much of her trouble. She commenced having them at the age of three. Our family doctor said she would outgrow them, but she did not. We took her to another physician who said her trouble was epileptic fits in a mild form. He did not so good either. She was so nervous she could hardly walk. As I had a ready trust in Dr. Miles' Nerve and found it a good remedy for myself I commenced giving it to my child. I gave her in all ten bottles of the Nerve and one of the blood purifier. That was over two years ago and she has not had an attack since we commenced the treatment. She is no longer troubled with nervousness and we can now her permanently cured. I enclose her picture. My mother-in-law had her given and was inane for three months from the effects of LaGrippe. 85 cents of Dr. Miles' Nerve cure her. My mother has also taken it for sick headache with good results. We all thank you very much for your good medicines and kind advice. I do not think there is any other medicine half so good. I send my daughter's photograph so that you may see what a sweet little girl lives out in Arkansas."—MRS. HANNA BARKETT, Springfield, Ark.

DISTINGUISHED STATESMAN DIES.

Gen. David B. Henderson, of Iowa, former Speaker of the House of Representatives in Congress, and an able man, died at his home in Dubuque on Sunday last.

Gen. Henderson was a Scotchman by birth, but had lived in this country ever since he was six years of age. He was a gallant soldier in the Civil War and lost a leg in the army.

HEAVIEST OF THE WINTER.

On Monday night it commenced to rain about 7:30 o'clock, but soon turned into a fierce snowstorm, which raged most of the night, covering the ground to the depth of about six inches on a level, and from two to three feet where it drifted. The wind blew pretty hard all the while, and about daylight drove the clouds away and the sun came out.

It was decidedly the heaviest snow of the winter.

GALLANT SOLDIER IN TWO WARS CALLED.

Maj. Gen. Thos. J. Wood, U. S. A., retired, died at his home at Columbus, Ohio, on Sunday last.

Gen. Wood was a Kentuckian by birth, and was appointed to West Point, from which he graduated in time to serve on Gen. Taylor's staff in the war with Mexico.

We give below a short sketch of this gallant old man:

Columbus, O., Feb. 25.—(Special.)—Maj. Gen. Thomas J. Wood, a survivor of the Mexican and Civil Wars and Indian campaigns on the Texas and Kansas frontiers, yielded to old age, died at his home in Columbus, Ohio, Sunday last. He was a native of Munfordsville, Ky., and on September 25, last, celebrated his eighty-second birthday anniversary. He had been confined to his bed since Christmas last. He was graduated from West Point in 1854, and was on Gen. Zachary Taylor's staff and took part in all the prominent battles in the Mexican War, and was breveted First Lieutenant for gallant conduct at Buena Vista. He was also with Gen. Scott in Mexico.

In the Civil War Gen. Wood obtained the rank of brevet Major General. He commanded a division that participated in numerous battles in Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia. He was wounded at the battle of Stone's river and again at the siege of Atlanta.

Gen. Wood was a member of the Board of Visitors at West Point under the Cleveland administration. In 1902 he delivered an address at West Point to the survivors of the Mexican War. The burial will be at West Point Thursday.

Capt. C. W. Merchant, of this city, served under Gen. Wood in the Regular Army.

MEETING OF SUPERINTENDENTS EXTENSION DIVISION NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

Superintendents of Schools, to the number of about 1,500, met in National Association, at Louisville on Tuesday last.

Many of the ablest and most distinguished educators of the Nation were present and assisted very materially in solving many of the knotty problems which confront these long-suffering and patient people in their arduous work of imparting the proper training to the youth of the country.

There is no question but that (outside of the religion of the Master) there is no calling upon which so much of responsibility for the proper training of the young can ever be devolved.

If the youth of the country be trained to high ideals and intelligent action upon those ideals, the country can rest in security as to the outcome.

Therefore, every encouragement should be given to the good men and women who have given their lives to this stupendous work.

The Association was an able body, collectively and singly, and much good is hoped for from their deliberations.

SOME OF THE TRIALS OF AN ARCTIC EXPLORER.

Anthony Flala, the Arctic explorer, whose party had been given up for lost when a message came from Norway last summer saying that he had been reached by the relief ship, "Terra Nova" is telling quietly in Brooklyn, content to accept the inexperience of a New York winter, which he admits is much more trying, with its heat and rain, than the good, honest cold of the region around the Pole, where it doesn't rain after it has made up its mind to snow. The explorer, however, does appreciate the luxuries of civilization. A year ago, he was in sight of starvation, his ship wrecked, cut off from all communication with the world, but still fighting across the ice, through the darkness, to reach the North Pole. It is of these last efforts, and of the fight to find sufficient food to maintain life on the chance of the relief ship's finding him that Flala tells in the conclusion of his chronicle of "Two Years in the Arctic" in the March McClure's.

At the beginning of the second year within the Arctic circle, after the relief ship had failed to reach the little colony alone in the great white waste, dissatisfaction arose, and the party scattered; many remaining in idleness at Cape Flora to which they had gone in the expectation of meeting the relief ship and sailing home with it; others were constantly in the field with dogs and sledges transporting provisions from cache to cache in order that all might not starve to death; and Flala was at Camp Abuzzi preparing, in the face of all these discouragements, to make another determined effort to reach the Pole. The condition of affairs could scarcely be marched in any other corner of the globe; it furnishes a bit of study for sociologists; primitive instincts came to the surface and many things happened of which Flala merely hints in his narrative. Then after this hard winter, he set out with two supporting parties and the sledges to push north over the rough ice for the Pole. Perhaps the most dramatic scene of the entire story is that of the sixth day of the advance, when Mr. Peters, in command of the last supporting party, in a test on the ice-ridden Flala to turn back. Flala was all for going on; but Peters pointed out to him not only the small-like progress made so far, but that to run the risk of losing these sledges, might mean the death of the men left at Abuzzi and Jackson. Flala yielded, and led the way back, knowing that he had failed.

..DEATHS..

SHOWALTER—In Shelbyville, on Sunday, Mr. A. J. Showalter, aged 76 years.

Mr. Showalter was the only brother of Mr. W. B. Showalter, of this city.

MADIGAN—In Canyon City, Col. Mr. John Madigan, formerly of this city, of consumption.

Mr. Madigan was formerly a popular clerk for Mr. W. S. Farmer, in this city.

The remains were brought here on Wednesday, the funeral services conducted from the Church of the Good Shepherd, by Rev. Father T. S. Major, after which the remains were laid away in the Catholic Cemetery.

PORTER—In Paris, Tenn., on Sunday, February 18, Mrs. Margaret D. Porter, aged 69 years.

Mrs. Porter was the daughter of the late Mr. Robert Mills and wife, and born near the Forks of Elkhorn, in this county.

She was a cousin of Messrs. W. J. and W. H. Lewis, of this county, and of the Blanton family of this city.

She was an earnest, devoted Christian woman, a member of the Baptist Church. She was a great sufferer for a long time, and bore the pain with patient cheerfulness. She leaves a fine family of seven sons and two daughters to mourn her death.

To many of the older people of this city and county she was well known.

JONES—At his home at Jetts, this county, on Wednesday, Mr. W. Sherman Jones, aged 40 years, of pneumonia.

Mr. Jones was born in Fleming county, January 25, 1865; he came to this county some 22 or 23 years since. A number of years ago he was married to Miss Birtle L. Webster, of this county, who, together with three little girls, survive him.

In all the relations of life—as son, brother, husband, father and friend—Mr. Jones was a model. He was a devout Christian—a member of Grassy Springs Christian Church.

Those who knew him best loved him most. Earth is poorer and heaven richer by this dispensation of Providence.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. K. P. Smith, on Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, and the remains were laid to rest in our cemetery.

The sympathy of a large circle of friends goes out to the desolate widow and helpless orphans.

QUEER SPOT IN IRELAND.

Among the many odd nooks and corners and crannies of the auld emerald isle is Carrick-a-rede, on the Great Northern railroad of Ireland. It is an isolated rock, separated from the mainland by a chasm 60 feet wide and more than 80 feet deep, and it is at this place that the salmon are intercepted in their retreat to the rivers. A rude bridge of ropes is thrown across which remains during the fishing season, and this bridge, which is protected by a single rope rail, swings about in the most uncomfortable manner, often rendering it a dangerous feat in stormy weather, save to the natives, who cross it with the utmost indifference. The name is derived from "Carrig-a-ramhaddh" (the rock in the road) on account of the interesting of the salmon. Near by, on the west side of the island, is a cavern in which have been found the bones of horse, ox, deer, sheep, goat, badger, water rat and of several kinds of birds.

WELL WORTH TRYING.

W. H. Brown, the popular pension attorney, of Pittsfield, Vt., says: "Next to a pension, the best thing to get is Dr. King's New Life Pills." He writes: "They keep my family in splendid health." Quick cure for Headache, Constipation and Biliousness. 25c. Guaranteed at all druggists.

IN A HURRY.

Rev. Kong Yin Teb, of Honolulu, was describing in Philadelphia the horrors of leprosy.

"An American, a tourist, I suppose, is almost afraid to look at a leper, is not he?" a Baptist minister asked.

"Indeed he is afraid," said Mr. Yin Teb, smiling.

"Does he run away?"

"Well," Mr. Teb replied "I wouldn't quite like to say he runs away, but he retreats pretty briskly. If you saw him going for a doctor at that speed you would be altogether warranted in thinking that somebody was dreadfully sick."

"A dose in time saves lives." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; nature's remedy for coughs, colds, pulmonary diseases of every sort.

The appeal for volunteers in the great battle of life, in extirpating ignorance and error and planting high on an everlasting foundation the banner of intelligence and right, is directed to every member of this department would you but grant it audience. Let no cloud again darken your spirit or weight of sadness oppress your heart.

Arouse ambition's smoldering fires. The laurel may even now be wreathed destined to grace thy brow. Burst the trammels that impede thy progress and cling to hope. The world frowned darkly upon all who have ever yet won fame's wreath, but on they toiled. Place high thy standard, and with a firm tread and fearless eye press steadily onward. Persevere and thou wilt surely reach it.

Are there those who have watched, unawakened, through the long sorrowful years, the dawning of a brighter morning, when the weary soul should calmly rest. Hope's bright rays still illumine their dark pathways, and cheerfully yet they watch. Never despair! Faint not, though thy task be heavy and victory is thine.

THE BREATH OF LIFE.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stevens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O. It's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

THE "WIZARD OF OZ."

The "Wizard of Oz," with all its pretty girls, clever comedians and dazzling stage effects will be seen at Capital Theatre next Tuesday, March 6. It will be with regret, if it ever becomes necessary, that the American public will bid farewell to "The Wizard." The Scarecrow, the Tin Woodman, Dorothy Gale, Trixie Tryde and all the other characters which have made this one of the most popular attractions of the day. Seldom is an entertainment devised that contains so many elements of success as does this extravaganza. Music and myth are most happily blended, and, added to this, "The Wizard" is one of the best scenic productions seen in a long time. Two most unique characters are the Tin Woodman and the Scarecrow, and they are most wonderfully portrayed by Stone and Nee, and it would indeed be hard to imagine any other comedians playing the parts better. No prettier chorus will be seen to a local playhouse for a long time, and it is a matter of comment wherever "The Wizard" plays that all the girls are able to sing and dance as well as to look beautiful and wear charming costumes becomingly. Among the scenic effects, the cyclone scene and the snowstorm are the ones most talked about, although these are only two of the many startling features in this department.

An intimacy based on mutual esteem must be kept within the bounds of reasonable regard, and also the bonds of a gentle sympathy consistent with this persona interest. Such a condition precludes any and all shams, all make believes, or any semblance of egotism or hypocrisy on the part of either confidant whereby the comfort or the happiness of the individual may be hampered or destroyed.

It is a divinely appointed privilege to have a friend. One in whom you have implicit trust and confidence, in whom you place your very life and its secrets, and the sweetness of counsel, the pleasantness of converse, the restfulness of decision—make and prepare a vantage ground of indissoluble regard as fragrant as the perfume of violets, as true as the blue vault of heaven, as unbreakable as death. There are likes and dislikes arising in the realm of friendly intercourse which may preclude the interchange of ideals, these fire-brands of testimony being frequently the cause of heart-ache, whereby the loss to the individual is an added grievance, inimical to growth.

The first evidence of a living vitality, in the earlier years of a platonic friendship, appear in sincere trust for each other's welfare, a really pressed composition of detached activities, shown in many forms of unselfish service. The right to set up a standard of moral excellence; the privilege of religious or political opinions; the determined flat of pronounced personality, without a sign of avowed disagreement.

In fact, to let your friend be as impartial and as individual as you, yourself dared to be!

The second qualification of such a condition implies trust in every particular. Never to impute a harsh discrimination or a disloyal act to one you hold more precious than any earthly treasure; and the third attribute, the privilege of perfect faith which is hallowable and as abiding as the "rock of ages."

In this day and generation the right to friendship is a disputed aphorism. Its fervor is questioned, its sincerity abrogated, and unless, perforce, one has the courage to advocate—in the face of indisputable statistics—the certainty of such a virtue, there must arise a doubt perhaps as to its permanent existence, or its resultant failure. Friendship between women is most beautiful (if possible) than between the sterner sex, despite the charm of sacred story wherein David and Jonathan lived as divine intimates—heart to heart and face to face.

The courtesy of fraternal sympathy is a distinct feature in this picture of pathetic human nature, and one's heart responds to the exclamation of that sweet singer of Israel, who eulogizes the excellence of his departed friend in language unmitigatedly:

"I am distressed for thee, my brother Jonathan, very pleasant hast thou been unto me; thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women."

All the disappointments of worldly ambitions were swept aside in the distress of such a condition, every desire seemed to be merged in the pean of anguished loneliness, and one can but admire the fervency of its beauty, the sweetness of expression, and the purity of its sentiments. Beware of the person who boasts of standing alone, devoid of friends. He or she will prove the epitome of selfishness and the harbinger of pessimism. Let us touch the children the value of friends, and the wisdom of selecting comrades or companions for the journey through this life.

Teach them to cherish old friendships, as well as to appreciate old friends. These tried and true helpers are as essential to true living as the air one breathes, without them life becomes sordid, and the wandering exile a shipwreck at sea. The politeness of friendship insures the sacredness of a right conception to all its amenities. The treasure trove caught on the crest of nearness and fearlessness as the seat expresses it—and blessed are those who, daring to espouse the old-fashioned ideals, clasp the hand of his or her friend and says: "I would dare to die to save my friend alive!"

NEW BENEVOLENT ORDER—"BUFFALOS."

There is the old saying that there is nothing new under the sun, but it is not always so. There is a new benevolent order, which has recently arisen. A delegate will shortly come to this city to institute a Herd of Buffalos.

The following excerpt will explain the nature of the order:

The Benevolent Order of Buffalos was organized under the laws of Virginia, October 4, 1904. The essential motive is the unique derivation of the names B. U. F. F. A. L. O. O. B. I. S. O. N., and O. L. A. F. F. U. R., and their application as suggestive of the primary forces of human nature, good and bad.

The first two words, B. U. F. F. A. L. O. O. and B. I. S. O. N., establish the relation between the Order and its emblem, viz., the Buffalo or Bison of the plains. B. U. F. F. A. L. O. signifies the fraternal or moral forces of human nature as defined by the words from whence it is derived, and B. I. S. O. N. signifies the character of it enigmatically guided by the forces of B. U. F. F. A. L. O.

O. L. A. F. F. U. R. signifies the immortal forces of human nature as defined by the words from whence it is derived. The word is pronounced Olaf-fuh, accent on the second syllable. It will be observed that the letters of this word are the same as in Buffalo, except that they are exactly reversed. It will also be observed that B. U. F. F. A. L. O. expresses the fraternal uplift of human nature and O. L. A. F. F. U. R. the selfish downfall thereof.

The victory of B. U. F. F. A. L. O. is Human Liberty expressed in the word B. I. S. O. N. The victory of O. L. A. F. F. U. R. is the slavery of total depravity.

This it will be seen that the entire capacity of human nature is covered and its antagonistic forces in their struggles with Conscience defined.

B. O. B. is the Hello Boh of greeting among members.

The highest conception of B. U. F. F. A. L. O. perhaps, is that it is a moral science, furnishing a short cut, by an analysis of the essential forces, or primary impulses of human conduct by which a quick judgment may be reached as to the course to be pursued to best realize the solid, "enduring satisfactions of life," or in other words: "A short but strenuous course in fraternalism."

It may be said, therefore, that the Benevolent Order of Buffalos is a fraternal school of that moral science in the teaching of which new brothers learn to "ride the buffalo" across the "short cut," and to use "quick judgment" in their choice between the attractions of fraternalism and Liberty, and the allurements of Olaf-fuh and Slavery.

Its objects are purely Benevolent and Social.

After its organization, actual development did not begin until March, 1905. Since that time the Order has spread over Virginia, North Carolina and West Virginia and into Kentucky and Ohio. Many places in the last two States are now circulating petitions for a Charter.

Cincinnati will soon have a membership of several hundred. Hamilton, Dayton and Springfield, O., Newport and Covington, Ky., and Richmond, Ind., will all be instituted within the next few weeks. Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham, Ala., Memphis, Tenn., have each asked for an organizer, and thus the Order is spreading over the country.

The First Annual Meeting of the B. O. B. was held in Richmond, Va., November 22 and 23, 1905. The next meeting will be held in Cincinnati, Tuesday, August 2, 1906. Cincinnati Herd No. 16, is, therefore, anxious to make that meeting a big success.

The phenomenal progress the Order has made is largely due to the liberal press notices it has received, both associated and local, wherever the Order has spread.

The greatest of care has been taken in the personnel of the Order everywhere. The method of procedure is to first secure a few thorough representative men, popular leaders, to whom all petitioners must be acceptable.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.
